HR Ticket SLA & Escalation Matrix (HR)

The working SLA for the HR Desk portal: response and resolution times per cat ownership, and the escalation ladder when SLAs slip.

REF	KB-HR-10
VERSION	V1.4
EFFECTIVE	01 JAN 2026
FOR	HR TEAM ONLY
CLASSIFICATION	CONFIDENTIAL / HR INTERNAL

Every HR ticket entering the portal is a promise made in writing. This matrix defines what that promise is — first response, resolution, priority handling — and what happens when it is missed. Employees see the response targets per category; this version additionally defines ownership and escalation.

1. Category SLAs

Category	First response	Target resolution	First-line owner
Payroll & payslip queries	1 working day	Before next credit date; urgent cases same week	Payroll pod
Leave & attendance	8 working hours	3 working days	HR Ops on duty
Benefits & insurance	1 working day	5 working days (claims per TPA calendar)	Benefits admin
Policy / general query	1 working day	3 working days	Any available agent
Workplace concerns / grievance	Same working day	Ladder per grievance SOP	ER pod
Data / access / system issues	4 working hours	2 working days	HR systems
Recruitment & internal candidates	1 working day	5 working days	TA pod

2. Priority rules

- Emergency (paid-day credit failure visible, medical / bereavement coordination, harassment-tagged): break the queue and page the pod lead immediately — SLA does not substitute for care.
- High priority embodies financial impact attached in the ticket by an agent or supervisor.
- Auto-triage is naïve: agents should correct categories on triage when the employee picked the wrong one; SLA follows the corrected category.

3. Escalation ladder

Breach point	Escalate to
First response missed	Pod lead (auto)
Resolution target missed	Pod lead files face-up escalation note + revised commitment in the ticket
2 business days overdue	HR head
4+ days or repeated breaches on the same category	Business head + audit of the pod's queue

4. Backlog and quality review

Weekly: pod leads review aging tickets and re-assignment; monthly: HR head reviews SLA report, employee satisfaction tags and reopen counts. A pattern of reopens tells the real SLA story — resolution rate by itself flatters a queue that closes without resolving.
