Learning & Development Policy

Learning entitlements — the annual budget, certification support, training hour learning requests and sharing back to the organisation.

REF	KB-E-16
VERSION	V1.5
EFFECTIVE	01 JAN 2026
FOR	ALL EMPLOYEES
CLASSIFICATION	INTERNAL / ALL EMPLOYEES

Learning at Emids is funded, not merely permitted. Every confirmed employee carries an annual learning budget, utilised through a simple approval flow; your learning plan is part of your mid-year check-in.

1. Annual budget

Tenure / level	Annual learning budget
Each confirmed employee	Per published band table (typical ■25,000–■60,000)
Extra for certification exams	Exam fee reimbursed beyond budget for in-role certifications
Event / conference	Case by case, with a talking-back commitment

2. What the budget covers

- Self-paced courses and platform subscriptions approved in the LMS catalogue.
- Certification exam fees for certifications relevant to your role or next role.
- Books and journal access related to your development plan.
- Bootcamps or workshops with your manager's recommendation.

3. Requesting learning

Raise the request in the LMS with the link, cost and a two-line why-it-matters. Manager approval within 5 working days for spends inside your budget; beyond budget or client-critical timing needs the delivery head. Completed learning is recorded in your profile — supervisors see completed courses during reviews.

4. Learning hours

A minimum of four hours per month of learning time is expected — scheduled like any other commitment. Teams commonly block Friday afternoons; if your project makes a block impossible, your manager should help you find the hours rather than skip the expectation.

5. Sharing back

Learning returns more than personal growth when it is shared: guild talks, brown-bag sessions and internal enablement sessions convert individual budget into team capability (and in some programmes, into recognition awards).

> Certification bonds are not applied at Emids for standard in-role certifications; long courses (6+ months) or company-initiated programmes may carry a service period stated upfront and in writing.